Honourable Chancellor, Shri Najeeb Jung, Lieutenant Governor of Delhi, Prof. Yogesh Singh, Vice-Chancellor, Delhi Technological University, Distinguished members of the Board of Governors and other Statutory Bodies, Distinguished Faculty Members, the Registrar and other administrative staff of DTU, My dear Graduating students, and Representatives from the media, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I consider it my special privilege and honour to deliver the Third Convocation Address of the University during the 75th Year Celebrations of the Institution. On this occasion I would also like to congratulate the entire Delhi Technological University fraternity on completion of 75 years of tradition of excellence in Engineering and Technology Education, Research and Innovations. The Delhi Technological University has originated from Delhi College of Engineering / Delhi Polytechnic, which was established in the year 1941 with the objective to cater the needs of Indian industries for trained technical manpower with practical experience and sound theoretical knowledge. It comprised of a multi-disciplinary and multi-level institution offering wide ranging programmes in engineering, technology, arts and sculpture, architecture, pharmacy and commerce.

First of all I congratulate all the graduating students for their successful performance and wish them grand success in fulfilment of their aspirations and dreams by hard work and dedication as they move out from the campus life of the University. My greetings to all the great teachers and a dynamic Vice-Chancellor, who all worked very hard in motivating, inspiring and training the young minds passing out from the university, today. I also extend my greetings to the parents who supported their children in acquiring knowledge from this great Institution of Higher learning and Research.

My dear graduating students, you are now free from the shackles of prescribed learning and pressures of scheduled assignments and examinations, that too in tightly focused areas of Engineering and Technology. We have continued with age old system of academic transactions which in general does not provide much scope for a learning environment to promote studies and academic exploration in areas breaking barriers of specializations. Now you are reasonably wellequipped to acquire new knowledge in a free and borderless domain. You are all about to enter a new challenging and promising environment full of enormous opportunities to explore various directions and options for moving forward as per your choice and aim of life. You have to also realize that you are among the very few lucky students who could receive education and training in one of our leading Institutions being heavily subsidized through public funding and other necessary support. Therefore, as you move forward in your professional career, you have to remind yourself of the important obligation that you have to dedicate your knowledge and expertise for the cause of national development and wellbeing of our people. From now on the outcomes of your acts and actions will be evaluated and judged in a much wider perspective by a variety of stake holders including the Institution from which you graduated the people around you and the civil society in general. In this context I quote here the following words of wisdom by Swami Vivekanand. "Take up one idea. Make that one idea your life- think of it, dream of it; live on that idea. Let the brain; muscles; nerves; every part of your body; be full of that idea; and just leave every other idea alone. This is the way to success. Arise, Awake, Sleep not till the goal is reached."

My dear young friends, such has been the spirit of several women and men who distinguished themselves in different sectors of human endeavour world over. You all know about Bill Gates the co-founder of the Microsoft, which became the world's largest Personal Computer (PC) software company. In view of his most distinguished and successful achievements he was invited to deliver Harvard University Commencement Address in the year 2007. In this address he referred to his experience as a student at Harvard College where he had entered at the age of 18 years in 1973 and just two years later in 1975 at the age of 20 years he contacted a company in Albuquerque (U.S.A.) which was making the world's first Personal Computers with an offer to sell the software available with him to the Company for use in the PC. I quote his experience below which describes how he got motivated to work with strong determination that transformed him from a Harvard College student to a successful entrepreneur. "One of my biggest memories of Harvard came in January 1975, when I made a call from Currier House to a company in Albuquerque that had begun making the world's first personal computers. I offered to sell them software. I was worried that they would realize I was just a student in a dorm and would hang up on me. Instead they said: "We're not quite ready, come see us in a month," which was a good thing, because we hadn't written the software yet! From that moment, I worked day and night on this little extra credit project that marked the end of my college education and that was the beginning of a remarkable journey with Microsoft."

We are the largest and a most vibrant democracy of the world. In the next three-four decades we are likely to become one of the largest economies in the world. For this the students and academics of our institutions of higher learning, have to play a very important role by accepting challenges in different sectors of national development and evolve new processes to address them through curiosity to explore solutions by innovative ideas and approaches. Thus, the Institutions of higher learning have to position themselves not only for handing out diplomas to those who seek admissions, but to advance meaningful knowledge and to educate young people to become critical thinkers and society's leaders in different sectors. Discoveries and innovations are not as important as their impact on successful applications for wellbeing of the humanity.

Today 'knowledge economy' is seen as one of the most important driving force for achieving desired level of economic growth and prosperity of our people. Emerging trends and innovations in Science and Technology are recognized globally as key for boosting productivity, creating more and better jobs, enhancing competitiveness and economic growth. For example, scientific and technological advances are estimated to have produced roughly half of all US economic growth in the last 50 years. It is also well understood that the knowledge economy is propelled by creativity and innovations emerging from some of the greatest institutions of higher learning and the leaders produced by them.

In this context the following vision statement of Delhi Technological University is very promising and meaningful. "DTU to be a leading World Class Technology University playing its role as a key node in National and Global Knowledge Network thus empowering India with the Wings of Knowledge and Power of Innovations."

My dear young friends in the contemporary dynamic and highly competitive world of knowledge economy we cannot afford to relax. We cannot be complacent. We have to realize that there can be no sense of entitlement. Therefore, we must understand that we will get the future that we earn. In this context let us recall how two of our most distinguished physicists, soon after they completed their University education like anyone of you, conceptualized, developed, shaped and propelled setting up of world class Institutions / organisations in the area of Nuclear Science and Technology and Space Research and Applications. They had futuristic vision much ahead of their times and a committed mission to achieve their goals. As it happens with pioneers in the process of evolution of a new knowledge and new initiatives, they had to withstand challenges arising from strong reactions, criticism and opposition from different sectors for their important ideas and vision. For, example one of the greatest analysts Karl Weiestrass, when talked about non-smooth functions great men like Heaviside described it as plague (a fatal epidemic of that time) in development of Science and its applications. But now you see Wavelets, Fractals etc. which are consequences of Weiestrass' work being extensively used in a variety of important applications in contemporary development of Science and Technology. Thus, when you move forward with a noble mission you should derive inspiration and strength from the following quote of Swami Vivekanand. "Each work has to pass through these stagesridicule, opposition, and then acceptance. Those who think ahead of their time are sure to be misunderstood."

Homi Jehangir Bhabha, at the age of 20 years went to study Mechanical Engineering at the University of Cambridge where he came in close contact with Paul Adrien Maurice Dirac (Paul Dirac), widely declared as the second greatest scientist of the 20th century. Paul Dirac was deeply engaged in studies of theoretical physics and mathematics that brought him the unique distinction and honour of sharing the Noble

Prize for Physics at the age of 31 years for the discovery of new productive forms of atomic theory. Bhabha was so greatly influenced by Paul Dirac, that he started studies in Mathematics and Theoretical Physics and earned the honour of being the first Ph. D. student of Paul Dirac at Cambridge University. Thus, after return to India Dr. H. J. Bhabha, submitted a proposal regarding development of nuclear capability in India within a period of just 8 months after Independence. The proposal received a strong support of the Prime Minister of India Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, and in due course of time Dr. Bhabha emerged as the chief architect of the Indian atomic energy programme. The Govt. of India created Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) and Atomic Energy Commission with Dr. Bhabha as its first Chairman.

Bhabha personally recruited and sponsored many of the principal players in the successful efforts to develop and test nuclear weapons such as Homi Sethna, P.K. Iyengar Vasudev Iya, and Raja Ramanna. I was privileged to be a member of the Executive Council of Indian Institute of Science when Dr. Raja Ramanna was its Chairman. As the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Jabalpur I had also the honour to arrange a public lecture by Dr. Ramanna, where he openly discussed a few successful programmes of DAE including country's nuclear weapon capability after Pokharan I. It is known and confirmed by Dr. Ramanna that Bhabha planned from the very outset to establish an Indian nuclear weapons capability. Bhabha told Ramanna during that period that "We must have the capability. We should first prove ourselves and then talk of non-violence and a world without nuclear weapons."

DAE of course, also contributed to several useful projects like production of radioisotopes and their applications in various fields, such as, healthcare, agriculture, food processing, industry, hydrology, development and deployment of advanced technologies like lasers, accelerators, super computers and others. He was also responsible for the establishment of two well-known world class research institutions, the Tata Institute of Fundamental Research (TIFR), and the Atomic Energy Establishment at Trombay, which after Bhabha's death was renamed as the Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC). His dedicated mission in building world class Institutions is reflected in his famous quote. "My success will not depend on what A or B thinks of me. My success will be what I make of my work".

Dr. Vikram Ambalal Sarabhai returned from Cambridge in 1947, and without waiting for any support from the Government persuaded charitable trusts controlled by his family and friends to endow a research Institution near his home. Thus at the age of 28 years he founded the Physical Research Lab (PRL) in Ahmadabad on November 11, 1947. Another innovative initiative of Dr. Vikram Sarabhai was to establish the Indian Institute of Management Ahmedabad (IIMA) in the Public-Private Partnership with the support of his friends in industry, the State and Central Governments, the Ford Foundation and the Harvard Business School.

The Soviet Union created an unprecedented sensation throughout the world about the technical superiority of the Soviets by sending the first artificial satellite Sputnik -l in space in October 1957. The news was received world over with mixed feelings of surprise, shock, admiration and suspicion but it ignited a great idea in the mind of Dr. Sarabhai who started dreaming development if capabilities in space technology and its applications in our country. This dream got materialised in establishment of the Indian Space Research Organization (ISRO) which is considered as one of the greatest contributions of Dr. Sarabhai, in building of a world class institution with a very futuristic vision. He dreamt of a Modern India playing a leading international role in development of Space Technology and its applications. His vision was much ahead of times and he encountered uncomfortable questions and opposition to his plans for accomplishing his mission. I quote him passing through such a situation. "There are some who question the relevance of the space activities in a developing nation. To us, there is no ambiguity of purpose. We do not have fantasy of competing with the economically advanced nations in the exploration of the moon or the planets or manned space flight."

Indeed like Dr. Bhabha who initially projected development of Atomic Energy only for peaceful applications but shared with Dr. Ramanna in private that we should first develop Atomic power and then talk of peace, Dr. Sarabhai talked about not competing with economically advanced nations, but later ISRO emerged in the league of six nations with most advanced capabilities in Space Technology and its Applications. Dr. Sarabhai had also said "But we are convinced that if we are to play a meaningful role nationally, and in the community of nations, we must be second to none in the application of advanced technologies to the real problem of man and society"

Dr. Sarabhai received a boost to his mission from Dr. Bhabha who supported him in setting the first rocket launching station at Thumba near Trivendrum now Thiruvantpuram. After setting up necessary infrastructure, personnel, communication links, launching pads, the inaugural flight was launched in 1963 within just six years after the launch of Sputnik-I. From the time ISRO was established in 1969 under Dr. Vikram Sarabhai, with the mission statement: "Our vision is to harness space technology for national development, while pursuing space science research and planetary exploration", it has progressed from scratch to become one of the top space research organisations in the world. Thus emerged another world class Institution in our country.

Steadily developing India's capability in Space research and applications, ISRO launched a dedicated satellite 'EDUSAT' for education in the country with foot print covering not only the whole country but beyond. I consider it a great privilege and honour to have been assigned the task of coordinating usage of EDUSAT capability across the Institutions and concerned Ministries of Government of India. We closely worked with two successive Chairpersons of ISRO: Dr. K. Kasturirangan and Shri G. Madhavan Nair. Today, ISRO is amongst the world's a few best in space technology. It has made a beginning in commercial launches. India became the first nation in the world to successfully put the Mars Orbiter Mission (MOM), also called Mangalyaan on September 25, 2014 in the orbit in its very first attempt. Our Prime Minister Sri Narendra Modi greatly acclaimed this unique national success. I quote him: "Innovation by its very nature involves risk. If you are trying to do something that hasn't been done before, it is a leap into the dark. Space is indeed the biggest unknown out there. History has been created. We have dared to reach out into the unknown and have achieved the near impossible. Indians are proud people despite our many limitations. The success of our space program is a shining symbol of what we are capable of as a nation."

My dear young friends, besides strong commitment, dedication and futuristic vision, an important factor for the grand success of Dr. Bhabha and Dr. Vikram Sarabhai in establishing world class Institutions for development of Advanced Science and Technology, was based on well thought of ideas and missions that had significant future relevance, and potential for applications to solve the real problem of man and society. Each one of you has great capacity, capability and potential of achieving highest levels of excellence in whatever profession you choose. Therefore it is very important for your success to explore all possibilities, examine their potential, relevance and impact on societal benefits and only then choose your mission. In this context I quote following important observations of one of the great scientists of the 20th century Nobel Laureate Dr Linus Pauling, who received Nobel Prize in Chemistry in 1954 and that for Peace in 1962. "The way to get good ideas is to get lots of ideas, and throw the bad ones away. Satisfaction of one's curiosity is one of the greatest sources of happiness in life".

My dear young friends you are going to enter the world of work in a fast changing scenario of innovations in accelerating technologies and their social impact. The past more than 3 decades have seen incredible growth and innovation especially in the ICT sector. We have gone from pocket calculators and PCs to pocket computers more powerful than the mammoth mainframe computers of the 1980s. The cost of a gigabyte of storage was in the range of $100,000 and the size of a refrigerator. Today, it is basically free and size is measured in millimetres. An iPhone today has 2 billion transistors. This is incredible progress. The entire planet of people and things is becoming connected. Five billion people have access to a obile device, and more than 3 billion of the world's citizens can instantly connect with almost anyone around the world via the internet. In the next few years, 50 billion things — everything from light bulbs and refrigerators to roads and clothing — will be connected to the internet. The United Nations has set the goal of connecting all the world's inhabitants to affordable internet by 2020.

Our country has launched a visionary Digital India programme to transform India into a digitally empowered society and knowledge economy. The Monitoring Committee for the programme is chaired by the Prime Minister himself. The country is committed to achieve following ambitious goals by 2019. Broadband in 2.5 lakh villages; universal phone connectivity; Net Zero Imports by 2020; 400,000 Public Internet Access Points; Wi-fi in 2.5 lakh schools, all universities; Public wi-fi hotspots for citizens; Digital Inclusion: 1.7 Cr trained for IT, Telecom and Electronics Jobs; Job creation: Direct 1.7 Cr. and Indirect at least 8.5 Cr.; e-Governance & e-Services: Across government; India to be leader in IT use in services — health, education, banking; Digitally empowered citizens — public cloud, internet access. This will increase access to information, education and global marketplaces, which will empower our people to improve their living conditions and escape poverty.

We are moving towards the Fourth Industrial Revolution: I 4.0. In the past few decades, modern society has undergone a number of significant changes due to the emergence of new and disruptive technologies. Indian Postal Service has struggled to cope with reduction in mail volume, money transfer services etc. due to advances like email, paperless billing system, e-banking. Newspapers have undergone a wave of consolidation as free access to information threatens traditional publishing models. The Encyclopedia Britannica survived the American Revolution, two World Wars and the decline of the British Empire, but was unable to compete in a world of Wikipedia. Encyclopedia Britannica went out of print in 2012 after a 244 year run. According to Pre Scouter Report 2015 and other sources like MIT Review 2016, there are following nine disruptive Technologies changing the World.

Big Data: In just two years, mankind generates enough information to fill 67.5 billion DVDs, and the amount of data an individual produces is expected to rapidly increase due to advances in mobile and wearable computing. We have generated over 90% of data in the last two years alone. Analysing this data in intelligent ways will revolutionize the reliability and efficiency of products and processes in different sectors of human endeavour. Because of this, Big Data is expected to be a $50 billion industry by 2017

Automation & Artificial Intelligence: Artificial intelligence, a technology that has long been associated with robots, is beginning to cross-over into consumer products, and has become a $20.5 billion industry.

Internet of Things: The utility of the Internet for personal computers cannot be overstated. By 2022, advances in this area will result in a network of more than 50 billion connected objects. Coupled with advances in Artificial Intelligence, this will ultimately lead to production lines that are able to autonomously route around damaged components, creating smart factories.

Micro electromechanical Systems (MEMS): Sensors and actuators are critical devices for transferring information between the physical and digital worlds. MEMS are already revolutionizing medical care and industrial diagnostics, and are poised to lead to rapid advances in haptic control, as accelerometers and gyroscopes are placed in every electronic device a person carries.

Advanced Energy Storage & Generation: Advances in super capacitors and high-capacity batteries are leading to distributed, models of electricity generation. Shyamnath Gollakota and his colleague Joshua Smith have proved that weak radio signals can indeed provide all an Internet gadget needs, using a principle called backscattering.

3D Printing: Novel advancements in 3D printing techniques could significantly transform the capability and scope of this emerging technology platform. Companies are now using 3D printed parts as finished products rather than internal prototypes.

Nano materials: Smaller materials are advantageous for continuing to drive miniaturization. Nano materials have been engineering with strengths, conductivities, and thermoelectric properties that are orders of magnitude better than traditional materials.

Biotechnology: Crops can now be created with extra-species genes to increase salinity tolerance, vitamin content, and drought-resistance, thus saving lives and eradicating hunger.

Terahertz Imaging: The paradigm of sensing has typically mirrored the human body's way of obtaining information. Cameras replicate sight, microphones replicate hearing, and transducers replicate tactility. Terahertz imaging extends sensory capabilities by moving beyond the realm of the human body.

Never before in our country had we witnessed so intensive focus on training of our youth and such a great confidence on their capability, capacity and potential about their valuable contribution for the cause of national development. I am sure each one of you will respond to this confidence of the Nation with strong commitment and dedication to leapfrog India's Economic Development for improving the quality of life of our people. In this context I quote Bharat Ratna Dr. A. P. J. Abdul Kalam, 11th President of India who said "You were born with wings. Don't Crawl. Learn to use them to fly and fly" and "All birds find a shelter during rain. But eagle avoids rain by flying above the clouds". I wish you all to fly above the clouds.

To conclude I would remind you of great Tradition and Value Based Culture of our country, beautifully described in the following lines in Sanskrit by comparing good human beings with a growing coconut plant which is provided small quantities of water to grow, but as a gratitude to that it carries weight of coconut fruits full of water on its head throughout its life (year after year) to perpetually serve sweet water to everyone.

प्रथम वयसि गीतं तोय मल्यं स्मरंतः, शिरसि निहित भाराः नारिकेला नराणाम् । ददति जलम अनल्य आस्वादमा जीवित अन्तं, न हि कृतम् उपकारं साधवो विस्मरंतिः ।।

So my young friends as a tribute to the Nation that provided you unique opportunity to learn in a great Institution: the Delhi Technological University, I am confident about your best contribution for the cause of national development and welfare of our countrymen. I wish you all success in your mission.

Jai Hind, Jai Bharath

Vice Chancellor's Address Presented by

Prof. Yogesh Singh

Vice Chancellor, Delhi Technological University, Delhi

His Excellency Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor of Delhi and Chancellor of the University, Shri Najeeb Jungji; Distinguished Guest Prof. H.P. Dikshit, all the faculty members, our belovedalumni and staff, degree recipients and my dear students, guests, representatives of the media, ladies and gentlemen:

I extend a very warm welcome to all of you on behalf of Faculty, Staff and students of Delhi Technological University on the occasion of the 3rd Convocation of the University. We are honored to have Prof. H.P. Dikshit, Former Vice-Chancellor, Indira Gandhi National Open University and the Former Director-General at School of Good Governance in Madhya Pradesh. He has kindly agreed to deliver the Convocation address on this auspicious occasion.

In the auditorium I can see young, energetic faces lit up with joy and excitement. The sea of dreams is splashing upon their feet and the clarion call of tomorrow is softly whispered into their ears. The Convocation day shall always remain special to all of you and in future I want you all to think of this day as a soulful reminder of your duties and responsibilities towards your alma mater, the scientific community to which you belong and the nation which has high expectations from you.

So my dear students, let me start by telling you about the enviable position you hold amongst the student community of India. Our country as you know, has no dearth of talent. Several educational institutes proudly declare their strength on the basis of the immensely talented children who join them as freshers every year. When I think about our students, I realise how significant a role you play in bringing freshness to the existing pool of ideas and perspectives of a given institution. Having said this, I also feel that you should always think about bringing improvisation in yourselves too. You should feel proud to be a student of DTU for various reasons.

DTU has a long and illustrious history of more than 75 years and is widely acclaimed for its excellence in education research and training. DTU's transformation from Delhi Polytechnic to Delhi College of Engineering to Delhi Technological Industry has given us wings to fly higher in all possible directions. DTU is a dream destination for many young aspirants of the country and we are glad to welcome them into our premises. The university is fully equipped with all kinds of expertise to ensure that we make progress in all spheres, be it Industrial, Academic or the Scientific world. DTU's partnerships with leading Universities and Industries in India & abroad have added more feathers to the cap. But, what really makes us feel proud is the manner in which our students and alumni bring honour to the name of their alma mater. You would find big names in the list of DTU alumni and their contributions to different walks of life are fondly remembered by us on such occasions. Names of world class engineers and technologists who decorate this list are many and it is a pleasure to remind you of alumni like Vinod Dham, the father of the Pentium Chip, Promod Haque, the world's most widely acclaimed Venture Capitalist, Raj Soin, the Avionics wizards of US & a top ranking Techno Entrepreneur, Durgadas Agrawal, the renowned Techno-Entrepreneur based in Houston, to name a few.

Delhi Technological University has been the pioneer of Quality Technical Education, Research and Innovation. Our University has kept the quality of education & research as its main focus of academic & professional activities, and this has earned us a high reputation in the country and abroad. This is evident from DTU figuring several times among the Top Ten Engineering Institutions in the country, along with the prestigious IITs. Delhi Technological University, has taken several new initiatives in restructuring and strengthening its academic programmes at Postgraduate and Undergraduate levels, and there is no wonder that every year there is an increase in the number of students who apply to this reputed institution. Introduction of new programs at the postgraduate level and focus on research and development are crucial factors that have helped in the recognition of DTU as a premier University for higher learning. The University has emerged as the leading Technological University for higher technical education and research in the country. DTU continues to be the one of the most sought-after destination for undergraduate and postgraduate studies and attracts the top performers in national examinations such as JEE (Mains) and GATE.

This also shows that we are constantly upgrading ourselves to match the enhanced expectations of the student community and public at large and strive to live up to our image that has been so persistently built up over the years. We at DTU are committed to achieve our goals to create an environment in which we can nurture knowledge and innovation and train students to work unceasingly in the service of the Nation and society. The development of the Nation depends upon their technical competence and work ethics that they have imbibed during their formative years as students. We are focused to keep pace with the continual progress in the fields of science and technology. The characteristics of the student population at the university are undergoing a significant change in the recent times. The university has responded pragmatically to the large increase in its intake by substantially reorienting itself academically, technologically and administratively and using it as a great opportunity to retain its leadership in engineering education in the country. The undergraduate curriculum for engineering education is designed in such a way that it introduces a new rigor and methodology in undergraduate teaching, laying emphasis on developing analytical skills and challenging the students intellectually. It is indeed heartening to see that DTU has been ranked as 5thth amongst India's best Engineering Institutions in the years 2015 and 2016 in a survey conducted by India Today. Once you are able to picture yourself in the same league of well known personalities, that moment will inspire you in directing your energies towards the betterment of your own life as well as those of others.

This is one of the questions that you must ponder over while rejoicing on this occasion: How to make life better and how can you contribute towards that goal? Now that you have the necessary skill and expertise, you must work harder to have a perspective on these issues.

You would have noticed that science and technology have made extraordinary progress in the last few decades. They have completely changed the way of life and the manner in which people think about it. Economies, cultures, and educational goals have responded to the enormous change that has swept humanity's feet in different ways. Some old standing beliefs have been challenged and new ones have sprung up. In these changing times, it is only the scientific temper which will give you anchorage. It will set you free from the dilemmas and predicaments of those who are unaware of this significant quality of mind. But then this scientific temper cannot be taught or learnt in a day or two. It takes years of practice to evolve, as it is also tied up with the society and its people. Yes, this is true-scientific temper is a part of the lived realities of human life and at DTU, you have already been put on the path of scientific exploration. Engineering is a field that has applications in all spheres of life. Nanotechnology, Organic electronics, exo-meteorology, synthetic biology, cognitive economics and all others point at the this wide network of ideas and their emerging and fascinating interdisciplinariness. At DTU there are several research avenues that are open for you--the need of the hour is to realise the area in which you can follow your passions and dreams with a practical approach. There is provision for availing scholarships so that you are financially stable and psychologically free in your pursuit for gaining knowledge. All these facilities and exposure might seem like a dream walk to many, because even today a number of talented people in the country languish in anonymity as there is no financial arrangement or funding available to them. So treat these four years as the first four baby steps towards contributing to your nation and the world. You should continue to do the same with equal fervour and passion as you pass and join the alumni of your alma mater.

We are aware that your engineering background and training at an institute like DTU gives you tremendous advantage over other people. You have got the two best things that will work in your favour through the battles of life. To add to these advantages, my suggestion is that you must try to look inside yourself and develop a vision for future. What happens when you pass the last university exam, when you earn your degrees and when you have a package that nobody else has? You may have the best job and the best package and that is very good but it does not make you unique. What really makes you different is your intellectual ability as you can be faster and sharper in quantitative analysis, data interpretation, logic and reasoning. Combine with this the edge gained through a dual degree like MBA or the experience of internship or the exposure in various fields like literature, philosophy, music, dance etc. gained during intercollege interactions and competitions- you would find that you have a great potential to make profits as well as bring about desired changes in the world.

Money is not an end in itself and I think it should not betreated like that by you. It is very similar to knowledge and education. They all have tremendous power to make an impact upon the world, but only if they are utilized in the right direction. The world is currently facing a number of crises and you might find an answer to these problematic situations. Money as you know, cannot replace the loved one or the nation in whose cradle we played as children. It certainly cannot compensate for the irremediable losses that one suffers when a bridge falls or a building collapses or if a train crashes-all because of negligence of some people or their selfish interests. As we grow financially and exponentially in numbers, we have also moved from natural disasters to manmade disasters. Do give it a thought. Is this what we had wanted! Money cannot bring back any of these--the lakes and rivers that dried up; those flowers, birds and animals which went extinct; the climatic conditions which went from good to bad to worse!

And still there is hope! Awareness of your surroundings, integrity of character and choice of ethical path will go a long way in preserving what we still have. As I said, money or knowledge cannot change anything on their own, but your will power and determination certainly can.

So my dear friends, I urge you to find a way- a way of growing beautifully- like a tree that provides shade to all like a flowing river that quenches the thirst of humans and others alike; like a flying bird that soars higher but comes back to the nest to feed the younger ones.

I am extremely thankful to the Hon'ble Chancellor, Shri Najeeb Jung, Lieutenant Governor of NCT of Delhi for his time and patience. My sincere thanks to the Chief Guest Prof. H.P. Dikshit, who consented to grace the occasion with this presence.

I take this opportunity to thank the Director, Technical Education and Training for their constant support and cooperation. My sincere gratitude to the Members of Board of Management, Finance Committee, Planning Board, Academic Council and other Committees of DTU for their valuable contribution which enables DTU to achieve its mission.

DTU is grateful to the financial support provided by GNCTD, MHRD, DST, AICTE, UGC, CSIR, DBT and DRDO. My sincere thanks to all the faculty members, employees, students and alumni for their devotion and hard work invested in DTU. Over the years, DTU has contributed significantly to the national cause of providing excellent technical education and I hope that we will continue to make progress in the years to come.

Once again, I wish all the luck to the graduating students present here as well as those who could not join us today but are living these moments with us in their hearts. My dear students, this is my message for you--"Don't look outside for role models, be one!" and lastly, please do not do anything in your life which is against the interest of our country.

Vice Chancellor's Report

The Convocation is an important occasion of an educational institution when we charge the graduating students with a pledge to dedicate themselves to the profession they choose and to the cause of human development. DTU's transformation from Delhi Polytechnic to Delhi College of Engineering and then finally to Delhi Technological University has taken a beautiful shape and the autonomy granted to it has spurred progress in several uncharted territories. The various transformations have helped us to remain young and energetic in our endeavour for academic excellence. With a history of over 75 years in providing technical education within modern educational infrastructure, DTU is an institution which defines and continues to update frontiers of Engineering. DTU is fully networked with Industrial, Academic & Scientific community. It has partnerships with leading Universities and Industries in India & abroad. DTU alumni community is highly distinguished pool of World class Engineers and Technologists and includes Vinod Dham, the father of the Pentium Chip, Promod Haque, the world's most widely acclaimed Venture Capitalist, Raj Soin, the Avionics wizards of US & a top ranking Techno Entrepreneur, Durgadas Agrawal, the renowned Techno-Entrepreneur based in Houston, to name a few. The previous year (2015-16) has also been eventful and we have made several achievements.

Following is a report on the activities, events and achievements of Delhi Technological University in the year 2015-16.

1. Admissions

In the year 2015, with the initiative of Government of NCT of Delhi, admission to the B.Tech. programmes at Delhi Technological University was conducted through common counselling as "Joint Admission Counselling, Delhi" along with three other technical universities/institutes viz. Indira Gandhi Delhi Technical University for Women (IGDTUW), Netaji Subhas Institute of Technology (NSIT) and Indraprastha Institute of Information Technology Delhi (IIIT-D). In this way, total 1745 admissions to B.Tech. Program at DTU were made through common counselling. It is a matter of pride that DTU has also offered two seats (supernumerary) to Prime Minister's J&K Special Scholarship Scheme for 2016-17 sponsored by AICTE under MHRD funds. The admission to the category PIO/FN/NRI has been conducted through DASA and 69 students were admitted.

The Ph.D. student strength has steadily been increasing over the last three 3 years. In 2015-16, about 33 Ph.D. scholars were admitted. All students involved in research in the University are given the opportunity to interact with research community at the National and International level by providing funds to attend International Conferences through TEQIP-II. While the research scholars are the primary beneficiary of this scheme, a small number of other PG students and UG students have also been benefited. The total number of Undergraduate students and Graduate students admitted in 2015-2016 were 1754 and 471 respectively.

Students admitted in the year 2015-16

| Programme                          | No. of Students |

The number of degrees awarded in the convocation held in 2014 was 1947. We are proud of the excellent performance of our students in academics. This year the number of medals to be awarded is 88. This includes 40 in B.Tech, and 48 in M.tech and MBA combined.

2. Academics and Infrastructure

Initially, courses in English, Economics and Accountancy were taught to the students. With the growing impetus on new courses like Econometrics, Gender and Technology and timely revision of syllabi of subjects like Engineering Economics and Communication Skills, a crossover between technical and non-technical aspects of learning is facilitated. The main objective is to give the students a comprehensive idea of the competition and the emerging work culture to make them confident and market ready
- Department of Mechanical, Production & Industrial Engineering has experienced considerable growth since its inception in 1941 with the intake rising from 30 to 328 (186 for Mechanical, 48 for Production & Industrial Engineering, and 94 for Automobile Engineering). The department also offers Post Graduate courses with specialization in Thermal Engineering, Production Engineering, Computational Design and Renewable Energy Technology. The Ph.D. programs in all fields of Mechanical Engineering are also offered. In addition, the department also offers four years B. Tech. Programme for working diploma holder. The department has developed eco-friendly technology using alternate refrigerants in the RAC lab for re-directing global warming and Ozone depletion. The research and development is facilitated by NT enabled workstations and competitive robots with digital controller. In addition, microprocessors, micro controllers, PIC, spectrum analyser and logic analyser are available for project work. The department has a modern workshop equipped with sophisticated machinery in Fitting and Machine Shop. # 3. Research and Development Activities

DTU with its prime focus on academic and research excellence has successfully cultivated a culture of quality research work. The students and faculty members are motivated and maintain high standards of research and analysis in their pursuit of knowledge. All the departments have recorded a remarkable progress in the number of publications in the last few years. While the Department of Applied Physics noted the highest number (192) in the current year, other departments like Electronics, Biotechnology follow close behind. A total of 617 papers in various journals was published along with 323 in Conferences and Symposia. The total number of publications in 2015-16 was 940, which shows 40% increase in comparison to data that was produced in the previous year.

Fig:2: Department wise distribution of data on Research and Publication
